

The East India Club

The venue for The Old Bloxhamist Society's Annual Dinner in 2006

Friday 29th September 2006

We have booked a larger room this year.

Following the tremendous success of last year's LONDON DINNER at the East India Club The Old Bloxhamist Committee have decided to make the function even more appealing this year.

This is the room for Mr Allbrook's reception

Those wishing to attend the dinner at 7.30pm are invited by the Headmaster Mr Allbrook to attend a drinks reception in The St James' Suite at 6.30pm.

Any other Old Bloxhamist may book to attend the reception given by The Headmaster Mr Mark Allbrook in The St James' Suite at the Club even if they are unable to attend the Dinner.

Once again we have an exciting speaker at the Dinner Canon Keith H Wilkinson, BA, MA, FRSA - the Head of The King's School, Canterbury - the oldest Public School in the Country dating from around the year 500.

Our Guest Speaker

Canon Wilkinson has spent several years advising on one of the new Academy Schools to be built in Folkestone. - Not an easy job trying to negotiate with Central Government when one is trying to include some of the best parts of private education into the public sector.

DRESS: Lounge suits for men and equivalent for ladies.

Applications may be made by email in the first instance to:

steinrandm@tesco.net

or in writing to:

Roger Stein, Resident Secretary, The Old Bloxhamist Society, Bloxham, Oxfordshire OX15 4ET

Please reserve *1 place @ £60 / *2 places @ £110

* please delete as appropriate.

Name..... Telephone

Spouse /partner guest name

Address.....

..... Postcode

Email address

Signed Date